

Success Journey Bingo

Make a list of 25 people that are on the top of their games in your industry or one you want to move into. Ask them if you can interview them to learn more about their journey to success and where they see things trending in the future. You'll learn what it takes to get hired by their company. And, if you hit it off, they just might become a valuable connection above who introduces you to the hiring manager.
